Grove Press, 2014. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: Praise for The Dying Hours : "Even in the best of times, Tom Thorne, the hero of a well-groomed series of police procedurals by Mark Billingham, is a moody chap. But he's hit rock bottom in The Dying Hours . . . The joy here comes from watching Thorne work under the radar while on the hunt for a killer who proves to be extremely clever and really, really mean."-- New York Times Book Review " The Dying Hours is British author Mark Billingham's 11th novel about Thorne, a prickly loner who is a relentless investigator, often at the cost of his personal relationships . . . Billingham is fiendishly clever about subverting our expectations, the book's two-page prologue being a bravura example. He's also adept at sketching believable characters very quickly, so that each of the killer's very different victims are real to us, not just corpses after the fact. Thorne's friends and colleagues are even more vivid . . . But the hunt is what drives The Dying Hours , and it comes to a breathtaking and surprising climax, with the last sharp twist saved for the final page."-- The Tampa Bay Times " The Dying Hours ' relentless pace doesn't slow down until the last word, proving why Billingham continues to be a best-seller in Great Britain."-- The Sun Sentinel "It takes but two short pages for the first twist to be revealed in Mark Billingham's latest Tom Thorne mystery, The Dying Hours , and a very good twist it is. . . . Thorne is an exceptionally well-drawn character, ably supported by a cast of complex colleagues and truly disagreeable villains, although at times you will have some question...
