Excerpt: . . . surely will be, cane farming on a large scale will be impossible. The inevitable result will be that America must pay more for its sugar and its opportunity for becoming a great sugar exporting Nation will have passed. The time has come when we must decide for all time whether we shall besugar merchants or sugar producers. America, engaged in a great War, finds herself in a position where there is no sugar that would be available for consumption in the United States if our coasts were blockaded by foreign powers such as Germanys now are, except 1, 000, 000 tons of domestic production, representing less than 25 per cent of the consumption of the country. It is evident, therefore that every encouragement should be given to this, one of our most important domestic industries. -- Herbert Hoover, U. S. Food Administrator. -. ----he There...
